

ANNEXATION PLAN IS ALMOST READY FOR FINAL ACTION

The plan was called at 10:15 o'clock and resulted as follows: Ayes—Mills, Umlauf, Jones, Powers, Puller, Naeff, Umlauf and Butze. Mr. Umlauf served notice that he would not be bound by the vote of the majority, and that he reserved the right to submit a minority report when the plan is recommended to the Council.

Adds Sixteen Miles.
According to the figures presented by City Engineer Bolling and Special Accountant Crenshaw, the annexation plan approved last night adds to the present corporate area 16.8 square miles, of which less than a mile is river bed. The present area of the city is eleven square miles. The new territory has a population of 18,250, contains 10,244 acres, and has a combined real and personal property valuation of $12,000,000. Against this there is a bonded indebtedness of $26,000, which the city assumes when the territory is annexed. The annexation plan would bring to the city two colored schools valued at $1,000, and eight white schools valued at $122,000.

There was little difference of opinion among the committee as to boundary line on the south, east and north. The marked division of opinion occurred over the western boundary. The plan as adopted last night follows the western boundary suggested by the Chamber of Commerce to the Cary Street Road, taking in Monument Avenue Park, Colonial Place and other far western developments. On the north of these properties it parallels Cary Street Road to the Belt Line, which it then follows to the river. The large estates between Cary Street Road and the river are left out.

Umlauf Objects.
Councillor Umlauf registered a warm protest against annexing the extreme western properties, which, he said, would not be ready for city improvements in fifty years. The annexation of this territory, he said, would serve only to further the schemes of certain "land sharks" who want it to enhance the value of their property. He offered an amendment to the Mills line which would have placed the western boundary at about the eastern edge of Monument Avenue Park, halfway between the present corporation line and the western boundary line indicated by the Chamber of Commerce. His motion was voted down.

City Engineer Bolling, when asked for an opinion, said that he was in favor of annexing liberally. He preferred the committee's line to the Umlauf line since it gave ample room for growth in the direction which development will naturally take. The same opinion was held by Councillors Mills and Alderman Puller, both of whom replied warmly to Councillor Umlauf's objections.

The meeting was attended by Assistant City Attorney Anderson, the City Attorney, as well as the City Engineer and special accountants, who were requested to be present at next Thursday night's meeting to aid in putting the annexation plan into final form.

Detailed Data.
The statement of Special Accountant Crenshaw, submitted to the committee, is tabulated in the following figures showing area, population and taxable values for the several districts in Henrico and Chesterfield Counties, the data governing the territory between the present corporation line and the proposed new corporation line follows:

PORK BARREL EMPTY

Washington, July 31.—Chairman Fitzgerald, House Appropriations Committee, defeated today by a narrow vote a resolution compelling his committee to change a deficiency appropriation bill into a "pork barrel" measure and heavy appropriations for public buildings.

Fitzgerald promised to provide money to carry on public works in course of construction, and experts will be sent throughout the country to report on the most urgently needed of the 300 public buildings authorized by Congress last year.

PRESIDENT WILSON NOT TO RECOGNIZE RULE OF HUERTA

factions, who would conduct a general election.
Some prominent Mexicans whose names are not being mentioned publicly, any one of whom, would meet the approval of the Constitutionalists for provisional president, are personal friends of President Huerta, which fact has lent encouragement here to the idea that a peace plan is not impossible.

A Waiting Policy.

Meanwhile, it is more than likely that the policy of President Wilson will be to await developments in the Southern republic and refrain from offering mediation or other conciliatory suggestions until Mexicans themselves have exhausted every resource to bring about peace. It is not likely that President Wilson will receive any envoys from either side in the Mexican dispute.

The report that Francisco De La Barra, former provisional president, and member of Huerta's cabinet for many months, was coming to the United States and might seek an audience with President Wilson, brought forth the information from the White House that it would depend upon the character of Mr. De La Barra's mission whether or not he would be received. It was intimated that if Mr. De La Barra came merely to pay his respects as a former Ambassador to the United States, or as former president of Mexico, he would be accorded all courtesies, but that in the capacity of a partisan in the trouble, it was not likely he would be welcomed.

Ambassador Wilson planned to go to New York tomorrow for a brief visit, returning immediately to Washington. He said to-night he had been authorized by Secretary Bryan to deny that any leave of absence had been extended to him. The ambassador is without direct information as to whether President Wilson has approved or rejected his recommendations on the Mexican situation. He also has not instructed as to his future.

BREACH OF PROMISE AFTER FIFTY YEARS

June, 1909, when, according to the complaints, Mr. Wolfe found his sweetheart of half a century ago and again proposed marriage. No denying it, the lovers mark the first epistles—they are free, vivid and brilliant. But towards the end of the series the flames falter. The words crunch into gray ash. The glow dies. Miss Mahoney asks $5,000 for the ashes.

She was seventeen and he twenty-four when they plighted their troth in Lewistown, Pa., according to the complaint. Then he went to the war, she promising to wait. She waited for fifty years. She had long believed him dead. But she kept her promise.

He went West after the war, and returned to Paterson, was married and reared a family of four children. She had moved to Wooster, Ohio, with her people. It was years after the death of his wife that he set out to find his boyhood sweetheart. The first letter renewing the long broken friendship is dated in June of 1909.

You need a light, Substantial Breakfast—
Easy to digest and very Nourishing

WASHINGTON CRISPS just fills the bill. It has a perfectly delicious taste, and when eaten with a bowl of milk, and whatever else you like, supplies just the right amount of "energy" for the day's work.

Lots of people eat WASHINGTON CRISPS twice a day. It's always ready—and it's so much better for you than meat and other heavy foods. Try this for a while and you'll soon feel the improvement.

The purity of WASHINGTON CRISPS is beyond question. It is prepared in spotlessly clean mills by automatic machinery—untouched by human hands.

WASHINGTON CRISPS suits every purse. You see it on the millionaire's table and in modest homes—in the highest class hotels and at quick-lunch counters.

Look out for imitations of this great food. Many inferior breakfast foods are put up in showy boxes and offered to the public in place of WASHINGTON CRISPS. You can easily tell the big, red and white package.

Order a package today. You'll like it better than any cereal you ever tasted—and you'll feel better too.

Outside a crowd of 200 mine workers had gathered, but the fracas attracted also two squads of State troops. The crowd started to rush the posse, and the militiamen drove them back with bayonets. Joseph Sufonia and Andrew Vince were arrested, and with Soder were rushed into an automobile to the Houghton jail.

woolens shall become operative January 1, 1914.

Mr. Underwood has told Chairman Simmons of the Senate Finance Committee, that so far as he was aware the House intended to stand for the bill, which provides that the wool schedule shall become effective upon the final passage of the bill. The Senate bill gives several months of grace to the wool men. Mr. Underwood insisted that the only way in which the matter can be settled is through a conference between representatives of the two houses, after the bill has been passed by the Senate.
